

HE'S A SIX-MILLIONAIRE.

The Astonishing Good Luck of a Young San Franciscan.

E. P. E. TROY.

Little sums and delivering policies here and there, all in the rain, when he received a letter to the effect that his great-uncle had died in Calcutta and left him a fortune.

Incidentally the letter stated that the amount was about £1,300,000, or near $6,000,000. Mr. Troy's first thought was that it was a practical joke, as his brother and parents are living, but the notice had come regularly through the mails, and he soon learned that the heading on the letter sheet was that of a prominent Anglo-Indian law firm which attends to business of this sort. To say that he was excited would be to draw it mild.

He hastened to his parents at San Rafael and learned these facts: Some twenty-five years ago E. P. E. Troy was a thriving business man in New York; he was cruelly disappointed in love, and so cashed his property and went to India. On the way he visited his nephew in San Francisco and remained some weeks, getting deeply interested in his little namesake, the firstborn of that nephew and his wife. He continued to write to his California relative occasionally for several years, but young E. P. E. Troy had heard so little of him that he barely knew there was or had been such a man. There is no doubt about it—Troy is in six-million luck. He is a native of California and president of Alcatraz N. S. G. W. These letters stand for "Native Sons of the Golden West," and the order is quite an extensive one now, as natives of full age are getting numerous. He has worked as solicitor for the Commercial Union Assurance company for some time, and loves San Francisco too well to reside elsewhere, no matter how great his fortune may be.

SHE TALKS FOR IRELAND.

Erin's Latest Champion Is a Young and Pretty Woman.

A new celebrity in Ireland is Miss Maud Gonne, who has recently visited France to enlighten the liberals there on the "Wrongs of Ireland." She speaks the language with remarkable fluency, and her recent address at the banquet of a society called the "Mediterranean Union" was received with great enthusiasm. Her history is remarkable.

MISS MAUD GONNE.

She was born in Kerry in 1866, but reared in Dublin, and her parents were of the landlord class and supporters of the English policy, her father being an officer in the British army. Nevertheless Miss Gonne became a Nationalist and a Home Ruler at an early age, and being left an orphan at twenty embarked her fortune and talents in the national cause. She is large, beautiful and eloquent, terribly in earnest, and has a convincing address.

After making many speeches in Ireland and the north of England she became so enthusiastic during what were called the "Falcarragh evictions" that a warrant was issued for her arrest. She was given plenty of time to leave the country, and though she has since been in Ireland the warrant was not executed. She maintains that complete autonomy for Ireland is the only plan that will satisfy the patriots, but that it can and ought to be secured without separation from the British empire.

The Late Cardinal Manning.

Of the great Catholic dignitary who died the other day a correspondent wrote only a little before his demise: "Cardinal Manning's fourscore and three years are wearing heavily upon him. Although more than six feet in height, age has bowed his stiff figure to such an extent that he does not appear to be particularly tall. He wears a black skull cap almost constantly, and this serves to set off the pallor of his very white forehead in striking contrast. His face is corrugated with the wrinkles of extreme old age, but in spite of everything this remarkable man turns out a considerable quantity of literary work, all of which he does on a small writing pad which he rests on his right knee. His hair is snow white and very thin, though rather long."

Specimen Cases

S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wis., was troubled with Neuritis and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepard, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever Sores on his leg; doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at GEO. M. WOOD'S Drugstore.—Advt.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." GEORGE A. PAGE, Watertown, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

Heart-burn A helping hand to lift up weak, tired, overtaxed women—that's what you'll find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives you just the help that you need.

It's a medicine that's especially to build up women's strength and to cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial, and bracing agent. In all the derangements, irregularities, and weaknesses peculiar to the sex, periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, weak back, leucorrhoea and every kindred ailment, if the "Favorite Prescription" fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

What's the use of "trying this" and "trying that," when here is a remedy that's guaranteed? In all the derangements, irregularities, and weaknesses peculiar to the sex, periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, weak back, leucorrhoea and every kindred ailment, if the "Favorite Prescription" fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
